MESSAGE FROM THE CHANCELLOR

Graduation marks an important stage in every student's life. It's a time to stop and reflect, to look back at what you've achieved—the many courses and programs you've taken, the countless tests and examinations you've endured, the triumphs (and sometimes the disappointments) that you have doubtless experienced in the lecture room or the lab. It's a time also to recall the non-academic side of life at UBC: the friends you've made, the pains or pleasures of living in dorms, the hours spent debating politics or philosophy or football. Above all, graduation is a time to take stock of what you've learned, and to recognize a simple but significant truth: that during the last four or five years you have acquired the skills, knowledge, and training that will enable you to make a strong contribution to our society, whether in civic, professional, or private life.

New decisions now face you. For graduation also marks the moment of transition from apprenticeship into practice, from learning into action; the moment at which you must contemplate your future and choose your direction. Some new graduates, such as those in professional schools like medicine or law, have already made their choice; others have yet to arrive at a firm decision.

Whatever direction you eventually choose, be confident that your UBC education has developed in you the qualities needed to help you achieve your goals—the knowledge that is the foundation of your discipline, the capacity for understanding that comes with critical thinking, and the open mind that accompanies intellectual curiosity and imagination. As long as you build on those fundamental qualities, you will continue to enjoy the kind of success that we celebrate today with your graduation.

Your degree signifies a great accomplishment, the completion of a lengthy and demanding academic program. Now you are ready to move on to the next challenge, whether that lies in further academic studies or in a particular profession. As a graduate of UBC, you have acquired skills, insights, and ideals that will serve you well in the future. You have an understanding of your responsibilities as a citizen of society. I encourage you to become involved, and to offer your ideas and solutions with the confidence that they will be heard and respected.

Whatever your choice of career, be prepared to encounter challenges that call on the expertise and understanding you have developed as a student at UBC. Society will look to you to help eradicate the injustice and poverty suffered by so many around the world. It will depend upon you for solutions to the social, economic, and environmental issues that afflict us all. Your critical and analytical abilities will also come into play as you begin to exercise the responsibilities of global citizenship and move into leadership roles.

I have the utmost confidence that you will succeed, and that wherever you find yourself you will contribute to UBC's reputation as a great university. My warmest good wishes go with you!

Sarah Morgan-Silvester
Chancellor

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

A threshold is a piece of wood or stone placed at the base of a doorway. Opening a door allows you to enter one place and leave another for the starting point of a new experience or way of being, removing a boundary beyond which exists a radically different state of affairs. For the graduating students of the University of British Columbia, today you stand at a new door. You may wonder if you are ready to move through this passage way, and it is my honour to remind you that you are.

If you look behind you—not in distance but in time—you will see another day like this one in your past: the day you arrived and chose this university to forge a new key to your future. Today's ceremony marks the end of a long and rigorous preparation, and the beginning of all that you have prepared for: service, contribution, responsibility, discovery, dreams made real.

You will have myriad opportunities throughout your life, and perhaps it will seem impossible to make decisions each time choices are presented to you. At those times, remember that you know you can do impossible things, because you have done them, and that every one of those seemingly impossible things presented an opportunity to leave a wish behind in order to make it a reality: rising at dawn to make your way to the field for practice; teaching your first class; speaking your first words in a new language, or your ancestral one; seeing the meeting place between economics and ecology; finding a lifelong friend in a packed lecture hall; writing three exams in a day; singing an aria; trading social time for the study hall again and again. Discovering the world in a single particle. Discovering parts of yourself you didn't know were there until you were called upon to read, to speak, to speak out, to serve... to change.

And I expect this experience has changed you. I hope so. Whether you knew it or not when you chose this university, you came here to change—your self and your future and all its possibilities. So now you number among the more than 250,000 artists, educators and entrepreneurs, parliamentarians and opera singers, architects, scientists, doctors and journalists who call UBC their alma mater. You have acquired critical tools and professional skills, the ability to develop and communicate your ideas and an understanding of other communities and cultures that will enable you to do even more of what others consider impossible: to seek solutions, to lead the way, to change the future.

I hope you will look on your time here with pleasure, and that you will make UBC a part of your future. You will always be welcome here, and we look forward to hearing about your personal and professional achievements as you build on the foundation provided by your UBC degree.

Before you go, I would ask you to remember for a moment the person you were when you first arrived, and say thank you. You said yes then to a future you could hardly imagine, and today you have arrived at its beginning. Let me thank you, too: for your contribution to UBC, and for all the contributions you will make beyond these doors as a result of your time here.

To the graduating class of 2010, my thanks, and my warmest congratulations!

Stephen J. Toope
President and Vice-Chancellor

SYILX WELCOME

Elders, Chiefs, Board of Governors, dignitaries, Okanagan faculty, staff, family, friends, visitors, students and graduates, on behalf of the Okanagan Nation Chiefs and our member communities we welcome you to our beautiful territory and to the UBC Okanagan Campus Spring Convocation 2010. We are pleased to be provided this opportunity to extend our congratulations to all the new Okanagan graduates of UBC. We are honoured to be part of your Convocation. Ceremony and recognition of achievement, and the meaning inherent in special events like this one, have always been an integral part of syilx culture, beliefs and customs. Learning has always been fundamental to the well-being and survival of our communities, Okanagan people valued life-long learning. Education and academic excellence are also a part of syilx culture. The honoring of one's intellect and knowledge has always been important. The Okanagan traditions and ceremonies awarded achievement no matter how big or small. Announcements were made to the Nation that "this is a day of significance to this person, (family and/or community) and you are all welcome to share in this celebration". The Okanagan shared their land, their teaching, and their culture with others and now as graduates, you too will have this opportunity to share your education with the community. Your educational attainment will serve you well, especially if you use it to serve your communities! The Okanagan Nation Alliance and UBC have forged a new path of partnership and inclusion so that we can all learn to embrace, strengthen and celebrate our diversity. The pursuit of academic excellence will continue to advance and transform our societies. Okanagan participation in today's Convocation ceremony and within this University bodes well for our future and our communities.

UBC TRADITIONS

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The wearing of academic costume is a tradition that has persisted from the Middle Ages, when the first Universities were founded. The regalia vary slightly from one University to another, and within a University, according to the status of the wearer. At the University of British Columbia, the undergraduate's and Master's gown are black.

The colours for the degrees being granted in 2010 at UBC's Okanagan campus are as follows:

- B.A. – University blue
- B.Ed. – White with University blue cord
- B.F.A. – University blue with magenta cord
- B.Mgt. – Light grey with a black and gold cord
- B.S.N. – Scarlet with University blue and white twisted cord
- B.S.W. – Magenta
- B.Sc. – Light blue
- M.A. – Fully lined University blue
- M.A.Sc. – Fully lined scarlet
- M.Ed. – Fully lined white with University blue cord
- M.F.A. – Fully lined University blue with magenta cord
- M.S.N. – Fully lined scarlet with blue and white cord
- M.S.W. – Fully lined magenta
- M.Sc. – Fully lined light blue

The Bachelor's hood is edged with the distinctive colour. The Master's hood is the same as the Bachelor's, except that it is lined with the distinctive colour.

The regalia of the Ph.D. consists of a gown, Cambridge style, of maroon silk with front-facing panel and sleeves of University blue with gold piping; a hood, Cambridge pattern, of blue silk outside and gold lining; a cap, decanal bonnet, of maroon silk with gold cord and tassel.

The hood for the honorary degree LL.D. is of scarlet broadcloth lined in dark blue velvet; for the D.Sc., it is lined in dark purple and for the D.Litt., it is lined in cream.

More information on degrees granted in Vancouver can be found at www.graduation.ubc.ca.

CONGREGATION OR CONVOCATION?

People often ask why UBC calls its graduation ceremonies "Congregation." There are no records to say why this term was originally adopted but it has been used by UBC since its first graduation ceremonies in 1916 and is believed to originate from its use in English institutions such as Oxford and Cambridge. According to Wikipedia, "a congregation is an assembly of people for a given purpose; with respect to a university, it is a formal meeting of senior members of the University. Examples include the Regent House in the University of Cambridge and the House of Congregation and the Ancient House of Congregation in the University of Oxford. Stemming from this tradition, in some universities a graduation ceremony is known as a congregation, even if the ceremony is not a meeting of the university's governing body in the traditional sense."

For whatever reason, UBC adopted this term for its graduation ceremonies in 1916 and has used it ever since when inviting faculty, students and guests to the Annual and more recently the Spring and Fall graduation ceremonies. UBC is unique amongst Canadian institutions in that it appears to be the only institution that still uses this term.

The term 'Convocation' at UBC is more often used to describe a group of people – defined by the University Act – including the Chancellor, President, members of the Senate, all faculty members and all graduates of the University. The Convocation, through the Chancellor who serves as its chair, confers degrees, including honorary degrees, and awards diplomas and certificates of proficiency.

In Fall 2007, UBC Vancouver Senate reconfirmed its preference to maintain the tradition of using the term 'Congregation' for its graduation ceremonies. In Spring 2008, the UBC Okanagan Senate passed a motion that "Convocation be adopted as the name for meetings of the UBC convocation held at UBC Okanagan for the purposes of conferring degrees, effective June 2008."

Did you know...?

- UBC's first Congregation ceremony took place on May 4, 1916 in the Hotel Vancouver ballroom. There were 41 graduates.
- UBC's first graduate degrees were conferred in 1919.
- The first Congregation ceremony on the Point Grey campus was held in 1927.
- The first graduation ceremony was held at UBC 's Okanagan campus on June 9, 2006.
- The first graduate degrees were conferred at UBC's Okanagan campus on June 6, 2008.

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

The University Mace is a symbol of the authority of the UBC Chancellor. It is displayed on ceremonial occasions, most notably during the Convocation ceremonies but also during the Installation of a President or Chancellor.

The Mace is carried by the 'Macebearer' who leads the Platform Party, which includes the Chancellor, the President and other dignitaries, onto the stage for the Convocation ceremonies.

Created by First Nations artist Sheldon Louis of the Okanagan Indian Band, the University Mace is carved from a single piece of alder wood, and combines Okanagan Nation traditions with university customs. The main art work on the Mace features three symbolic spirit icons—a mother bear with her two cubs, the image of the mountains, and water — given to UBC Okanagan in 2005 by the Okanagan Nation elders. The spirit icon gifts were selected by a group of First Nation elders, led by Andrew McGinnis, an Okanagan Traditional Medicine Keeper from the Penticton Indian Band, and Victor Antoine, an elder of the Okanagan Indian Band. Each spirit icon was chosen carefully for its special significance to the region, reflecting local Okanagan Nation tradition, culture and knowledge.

The Mace also features a number of university symbols, including the UBC Okanagan logo, the University coat of arms and the UBC motto Tuum Est – It's Yours. In addition, the back of the Mace displays the word Suknaqinx, which is of the Nsyilxcen language, spoken by the Okanagan's original people. Roughly translated, it means "the ones who stand on the hill and are seen and heard from far away."

The University Mace, which was carved in the shape of a paddle, representing the importance of Okanagan Lake to the region's people, is also inlaid with silver, applied by First Nations silversmith artist Justin Terbasket of the Lower Similkameen Indian Band. The Mace was used for the first time at the 2009 Convocation Ceremonies.

THE CHANCELLOR'S OKANAGAN CHAIR

In 2007, UBC's Okanagan campus commissioned the creation of a new Chancellor's chair for use in Okanagan Convocation ceremonies. Handcrafted by master furniture maker Dennis Weidman of Lake Country, B.C., the chair was fashioned from cherry wood, a species selected for its significance in the Okanagan's long history as a fruit-growing region.

The chair's front panel features UBC's motto, Tuum Est, the UBC Okanagan logo laser engraved in the headrest panel, and UBC's coat of arms on each side panel.

O CANADA

O Canada! Our home and native land,
True patriot love in all thy sons command.
With glowing hearts we see thee rise,
The true north strong and free!
From far and wide, O Canada,
We stand on guard for thee.
God keep our land glorious and free!
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee,
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.

OKANAGAN SONG

The Okanagan Song is based on a traditional song style called skəlmxqin. Skəlmxqin songs belong to the Okanagan/Syilx people collectively. Songs of this style can be sung by any Okanagan/Syilx person using their own phrasing and their own emotion while maintaining the formal rhythm and structure. This song has been called the "Okanagan Song" or the "Okanagan Nation Anthem" because the phrasing and meaning were constructed to celebrate pride in being Okanagan.

Translation of suknaqinx skəlmxqinx

Note: the word a4i translates three separate ways in this song.

A4i kʷu swi wi numtax
(given that we are good-looking/vibrant/strong)

A4i kʷu suknaqinx
(due to being Okanagan)

A4i axa? i? tmxʷula?xʷ
(because of this land)

Literation/meaning

We are beautiful
Because we are Okanagan
Because our land is beautiful

UBC'S IMPORTANT HISTORICAL MOMENTS

The following list reflects important historical moments in UBC's history:

1908

- Provincial legislature passes a new "University Act" establishing The University of British Columbia. It provides for a Chancellor, a Convocation, a President, and a Board of Governors to manage the university's administration, property and business affairs, and a Senate to administer academic matters.

1910

- After a province-wide survey, Point Grey is selected as the site of UBC's new campus.

1913

- Dr. Frank Fairchild Wesbrook appointed first President of UBC.

1915

- The University of British Columbia opens in temporary headquarters at the former MUCBC facilities (nicknamed the "Fairview Shacks" after the surrounding neighbourhood) adjacent to Vancouver General Hospital. There are three faculties: Arts and Science, Applied Science and Agriculture. Student enrolment in September is 379 and total number of full- and part-time faculty is 34.

1922

- Tired of over-crowded conditions and inadequate facilities, UBC students launch a campaign known as "Build the University" to resume construction at the Point Grey campus. With 56,000 names on a petition for the government, 1,200 students with floats, bands and banners march through the streets of downtown Vancouver to the Point Grey campus. This pilgrimage became known as the "Great Trek," as it successfully convinced the Government of B.C. to resume work on the Point Grey site. The "Great Trek" represents one of the greatest efforts of an undergraduate student body in support of its university and still reflects the spirit and pride of UBC students.

1925

- UBC moves to Point Grey campus.

1940

- Students contribute to the construction of Brock Hall, the university's first student union building.

1951

- Student initiative leads to construction of War Memorial Gymnasium, as a memorial to the British Columbians who died serving their country.

1979

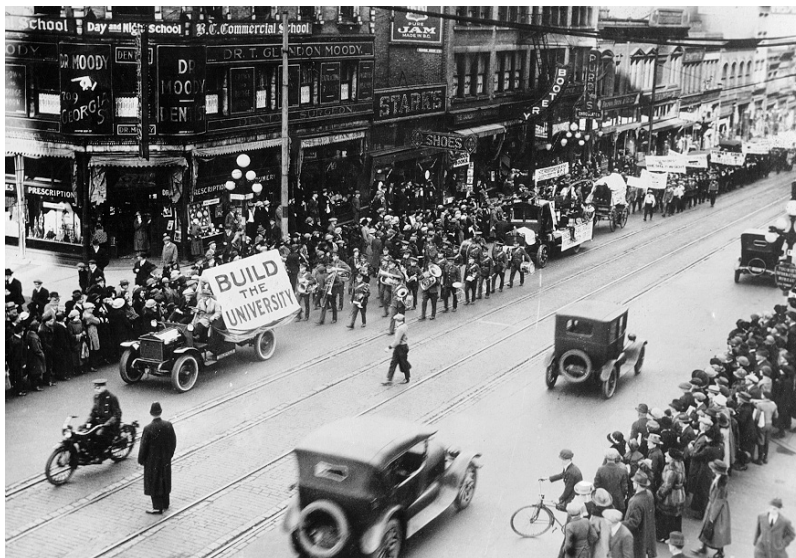

- UBC awards its 100,000th degree.

1993

- U.S. President Bill Clinton and Russian President Boris Yeltsin meet at UBC during the "Vancouver Summit."
- Dr. Michael Smith receives the Nobel Prize.

UBC students march through the streets of Vancouver in the "Great Trek" of 1922.

SUSTAINABILITY PLEDGE

Imagine all UBC graduating students making a collective statement of commitment to improving the sustainability of our communities.

UBC students have joined university and college graduates across North America in a growing movement to redefine the purpose of education. Students are committing to use their knowledge wisely to create positive change in the world.

Through the UBC Sustainability Pledge, you have the opportunity to commit to working toward a career and lifestyle with a conscience. The Pledge also links you to resources that will help you incorporate social, ecological, and economic aspects of sustainability into your professional and personal life.

The Pledge is more than just a personal commitment. Our collective voice sends a strong message to the university and the greater community that UBC students care about sustainability.

Take a graduating step to creating a more sustainable society, sign now at: www.sustain.ubc.ca/sustainable_u. This program was proposed and is managed by students, and is supported by the Office of Student Development and the Campus Sustainability Office.

"I pledge to explore and take into account the social and ecological consequences of my decisions. Furthermore, I pledge to use the knowledge I gain while at UBC to improve the sustainability of the communities in which I live, learn, and work."

UBC – A RELATIONSHIP FOR LIFE

Welcome, Class of 2010, to your new and honoured place in the UBC community. Today we celebrate all you have worked for and achieved in your time as a student; and the promise of your life as an alum.

Many students don't realize that when you graduate from UBC, you automatically become an alumna(f) or alumnus(m). You cross the stage at convocation, the Chancellor admits you into UBC's alumni body and your relationship with the University enters a whole new phase. Now you begin to see the true value of your degree(s). And you won't have to go far to find yourself in the company of amazing people—educators, artists, doctors, nurses, business and community leaders—UBC grads who will be your role models, mentors, colleagues and friends.

UBC acknowledges the value of all that our students have brought and continue to bring to our community. You might be surprised at just who your fellow alumni are, their levels of accomplishment, influence and contribution. Brought together, we represent a significant and positive force. Remember our motto Tuum Est – UBC is still yours. This place is as much about you as it is about buildings and classes. So reach out. Stay in touch. Ask for help when you need it—and lend a hand when you can.

Worldwide, there are about a quarter million UBC graduates. That's a powerful network and one that is totally open to you as you build your career and your life. We'll help you connect through the award-winning Trek magazine, regular email newsletters, our websites and social networks. You will receive a warm welcome at mentoring, social, educational and career-building events, whether you stay here in the Okanagan or go elsewhere. You can get involved with alumni groups as far away as London and Seoul or as close as Kelowna and Calgary.

The door is always open. It's only up to you to walk through.

Just remember that to keep you in the loop, we'll need at least a current email address. Please send yours to andrew.mercer@ubc.ca or visit www.ubc.ca/okanagan/alumnirelations for more information.

THE GIFT OF LEARNING

Learning is a lifelong journey that transcends the classroom or the lab. For some, the most powerful lessons gleaned from their time at UBC's Okanagan campus are about belonging and being a contributing member of a community. That doesn't end at graduation.

UBC's Okanagan vision is to provide students, faculty, and staff with an intimate learning environment in which innovation, technology, and community play key roles in the pursuit of knowledge.

The realization of this vision would not be possible without the generosity of alumni and friends of the University. Donations to UBC's Okanagan campus ensure that today's students and tomorrow's leaders have the best education and research opportunities possible, creating a vibrant and healthy future for us all.

To learn about the many ways you can invest in the next generation of UBC students, please contact the Development Office at 250 807 8565 or visit our website at www.ubc.ca/okanagan/invest

Every gift matters.

GRAD CLASS 2010 GIFT

With a legacy gift symbolic of lifelong ties, the Class of 2010 has placed a first commemorative stone tablet in the main courtyard walkway. Year after year, new tablets will be placed as a lasting tribute to each and every proud alumnus who once worked and played here.

SIGNIFICANT ACCOMPLISHMENTS & CONTRIBUTIONS

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

Prominent in the professions and the community, honorary degree recipients are recognized for their distinguished achievements in their respective endeavours and for the contributions their accomplishments make to the life of the University and the betterment of society. These degrees will be awarded during Spring Convocation.

DR. SAMANTHA NUTT

Doctor of Laws, honoris causa

Dr. Samantha Nutt is the founder and executive director of the humanitarian organization War Child Canada, and a medical doctor specializing in maternal and child health in zones of armed conflict, family medicine, public health, refugee health and women's health.

Over the course of her professional career and through her work with War Child Canada, Dr. Nutt has spearheaded efforts to provide direct humanitarian support for the world's war-affected children.

Her passion for advocacy emerged from her years living and working in areas of conflict, such as Somalia, Liberia, Burundi and Iraq. Even as a 24-year-old experiencing a war zone for the first time in Somalia, Dr. Nutt realized the need for an organization that would advocate and create change for children, and that could move beyond the normal concept of charity.

By the time she was 28 she had brought together the partners and resources necessary to establish War Child Canada. This organization has effected change directly, immediately and without compromise, providing long-term programming for war-affected children and their families, and promoting greater awareness in Canada concerning the rights of children everywhere.

Dr. Nutt graduated Summa Cum Laude from McMaster University, earned a Master of Science degree with distinction from London University, and holds a Fellowship in Community Medicine from the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada. She is on staff at Sunnybrook and Women's Health Science Centre and is an assistant professor at the University of Toronto in the Department of Family and Community Medicine.

AWARD FOR TEACHING EXCELLENCE AND INNOVATION

DR. PATRICIA LASSEIRE

Dr. Patricia Lasserre teaches computer programming and project management. She has received two Curricular Innovation Awards from the Irving K. Barber School of Arts and Sciences to develop novel ways to teach computer science through team-based learning in the classroom.

Dr. Lasserre is noted for continuously striving to improve course offerings through innovative approaches, always with a focus on student learning and how to best design a challenging and rewarding experience for her students. In addition, she employs teaching strategies that acknowledge a wide range of learning styles. She takes teaching beyond the classroom and is continuously demonstrating how and where the knowledge can be applied.

DR. MICHAEL WOODWORTH

Noted for connecting his courses with leading-edge research and current events, Dr. Michael Woodworth teaches courses in forensic psychology and clinical psychology, in addition to specialized upper-level courses on topics related to psychology and law, such as psychopathy, deception, and the nature of evil.

Dr. Woodworth is often referred to as a mentor and is known for his ongoing support and guidance of students. He actively works with and in the community to create unique experiences for his undergraduate and graduate students' projects, and all of his current students are working on projects with potential community impact. Dr. Woodworth has also played an active role in developing courses and contributing to the newly approved Forensic Specialization program.
